FOR GLASS BILL.*Wilson Acquires Optimism
With Amendments.*President Willing to Give the House a Recess.*Thinks November Will See
"Second Step" Taken.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—With President Wilson willing to accept substantial amendments to the administration bill in the hope of securing speedy action on the measure in the Senate Committee, supporters of the administration today grew optimistic over the chances for the passage of the measure before the end of the extra session of Congress.

The President in a letter to Majority Leader Underwood announced willingness to consider a proposal for a recess of the House, because he said conferences with members of the Senate Committee led him to believe the bill would be reported to the Senate the first week in November and passed at the present session.

A reduction in the number of reserve banks fixed by the administration bill at twelve and the removal of the Secretary of Agriculture and the Federal Reserve Board which would control the new currency system, were the amendments which the President let it be known he could not oppose.

THE LETTER.

"I have had conferences with members of the Senate Committee on banking and currency, both Democrats and Republicans," wrote the President.

"As a result of these conferences, I feel confident that a report on the bill may be had during the first week of November. Most of the members of the committee with which I have conferred have expressed themselves as being aware of the disadvantages to the country of any unnecessary delay.

"I believe that the action of the Senate on the bill will follow the report of the committee within two or three weeks after the report is received. I do not believe there will be any attempt to delay the bill by dilatory tactics. Senators on both sides realize that the business of the country awaits the passage of the bill, and that it is a matter of public-spirited desire to dispose of it promptly. The passage of the bill is a matter of national importance.

"In these circumstances, I should like to confer with you as you so kindly suggested, as to the action the House should take while awaiting the results.

"The President's letter was freely circulated in Congress and renewed active discussion of recess prospects. Senator Weeks, chairman of the Banking Committee, observed that the letter disclosed more optimism than the Senate would be inclined to entertain.

Senator Fourness agreed with the President.

One development which lent encouragement to those who hope for speedy action came when the President let it be known that he was not actually committed to any particular number of reserve banks, so long as there were enough to meet business requirements, and that the Federal Reserve Board did not necessarily have to include the Secretary of Agriculture and the Federal Reserve Board.

Republican Leader Mann promised to let Mr. Underwood know his position on a recess tomorrow; meanwhile Mr. Underwood is sounding sentiment in the Senate.

Victor Morawetz of the National Bank of Commerce of New York, who favored the general provisions of the bill before the banking committee, but requested reduction of the reserve banks to five or six.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS.

The proposed amendments would retain the Federal Reserve Board as a strictly governmental institution, but would provide that it be composed of members appointed by the President and the Senate.

Mr. Underwood sought Representative Mann after receiving the President's message and urged the minority leader to consent to the passage of a joint resolution for a recess of the House until November 1st.

Mr. Underwood also discussed with Republican and Democratic members the President's assertion that the currency bill would be disposed of in November.

"I found," Mr. Mann said later, "that the Senate was without a quorum, so was the House. I found that the President had not consulted with Republican Senators nor received assurances from them that the currency bill would be disposed of in November. I found that the President must have been mistaken or else was very much misled."

"I found in all probability the currency bill would not get into the Senate until the next session of Congress and that the President would be lucky if it passed by February. The President says there is an ambitious legislative program for next winter. Unless Congress begins work on the program now, we will be here until next September, and unless there are concessions on the currency bill, there may not be much legislation enacted but currency at the next session."

WILSON'S STATEMENT.

Secretary Wilson declared that he and the President had discussed the question briefly, and that there can be no harm in admitting her.

"Being admitted on her own recognition, of course, if she violates any of our laws, we have two remedies. Our courts may pass on her acts or we may deport her. There being the element of doubt as to whether moral turpitude or political offense was involved, we decided that we have sufficient safeguards and that there can be no harm in admitting her."

The decision by the President and Secretary Wilson was communicated to Commissioner-General Caminetti, who issued the formal order.

President Wilson felt that the law had a double interpretation so that it was largely a question of policy.

ENTERS HALL ON A STRETCHER.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dramatic appearance at the suffragette weekly meeting was made today by Miss Annie Kenney, organizer of the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant suffrage organization. Suffering from the effects of a "hunger strike" in Holloway Jail, and looking extremely feeble, she was borne into the hall on a stretcher and given a memorable reception by the crowd of women there, who stood on chairs and cheered until they were weary.

This was Miss Kenney's first appearance in public since her release. She reached the hall in an ambulance and was escorted to the suffragette hall in a taxicab.

The stretcher, supported on chairs, was placed in the middle of the platform, where Miss Kenney lay motionless and only able to whisper a few words to her friends.

MRS. PANKHURST LANDS IN GOTHAM.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffrage leader, landed on Manhattan Island at 1 o'clock today from Ellis Island, where she had been detained since last Saturday by the immigration authorities. She had been ordered to leave the United States because of her participation in the suffrage movement.

President Wilson and Secretary of Labor Wilson intervened on her appeal from this decision and today instructed Anthony Comstock, Commissioner General of Immigration, to release her on her own recognizance.

Comstock, however, said Mrs. Pankhurst now will be able to carry out her contemplated lecture tour in this country. She is expected to sail for Europe November 23.

It was difficult to imagine that the stout, gray-haired little woman who stepped ashore from the ferryboat at the battery, was the same person that for several years had caused the British government so much trouble by reason of her militant tactics in behalf of woman suffrage.

Also her tranquil countenance and brightness of eye gave no indication that she had gone through the ordeals of six prolonged hunger strikes to obtain her release from prison sentences imposed for illegal acts.

When she landed, Mrs. Pankhurst was taken in an automobile to the residence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, where she had luncheon, and then to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where she was to stay.

She was highly elated over her release.

When asked what she would do in her will," she said, "What will the English say?" Then she said her intention was to go to London and see the British Home Secretary, who is the chief torturer of England. She said she was not going to give militancy in this country, but that she would confine herself to an exposition of the treatment accorded the suffragettes in England.

Mrs. Pankhurst was the recipient of a demonstration of the Red Cross department, from which she was leaving the immigration station. Men and women employees sought points of view from which to see the militant leader and the Board of Special Inquiry adjourned its cases that its members and the immigration officials as she walked toward the ferryboat and the freedom of the country.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—More than 300 members of the Women's Political Union attended the dinner at the Aldine Club, which was given as an official welcome to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst this evening.

The militant leader, in an address, said the happenings of the last two days had done much to restore her confidence in the democracy of the American people.

"Think of the opinion in England when the news of my release reaches there," she added. "They committed me there for crimes against the law, and now they are prompted by the highest motives, and nothing would have pleased them more than to have seen me deported."

To those who criticized her motives she said:

"I am not here to make a speech, but to make a statement of the facts of my life. I am not here to make a speech, but to make a statement of the facts of my life. I am not here to make a speech, but to make a statement of the facts of my life."

It is understood that the basis of the inquiry was confidential report to the State Department, the contents of which were not divulged here. It is known, however, that what particularly displeased both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan was the presentation by Sir Lionel of his credentials to Provisional President Huerta the very day after the latter had proclaimed himself dictator.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Walter R. Page, the United States Ambassador, this afternoon discussed the situation in Mexico with the officials of the British Foreign Office.

The view of the British government is that the policy of Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister to Mexico, is not antagonistic to the point of view of the United States, and it is pointed out that the credentials of Sir Lionel Carden presented his credentials simultaneously with Provisional President Huerta's declaration of a dictatorship.

The fact that Great Britain has recognized Provisional President Huerta, renders it necessary that the British Minister should present his credentials without delay and so obtain official standing.

A great handicap in China, Dr. Eliot points out, is the absence of any knowledge of modern medicine. Hospitals are practically unknown and epidemics are frequent and terrible.

The western world, writes Dr. Eliot, "ought to stand by China with patience, forbearance and hope while she struggles with her tremendous social, industrial and political problems."

Journeying over to Japan, Dr. Eliot found himself in surroundings which present the most remarkable contrast to the conditions in China. He found a country of modern civilization, with a high standard of living, and a government which has worked out a civilization thousands of years old.

Of vital interest to Dr. Eliot's view of the future relations of Japan and the United States, Japan is a country which is a model of modern civilization, with a high standard of living, and a government which has worked out a civilization thousands of years old.

Practically the entire Federal government is now in the hands of a few men, who are waiting for a chance to take the country by storm. The situation is a most remarkable one, and it is a matter of great interest to the people of the United States.

President Emeritus of Harvard Describes His Visit to China and Tokio in the Interest of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and Declares Report that Mikado's Government Is Hostile to America.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Carnegie endowment for international peace has just published, for public distribution, the report of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, describing his experiences and impressions on a trip he made to the Far East in 1912 under the auspices of the endowment in pursuance of its plan for international visits of representatives of the various nations.

Dr. Eliot was the first American chosen to make such a visit. His report deals exhaustively with the international conditions of the two great nations of China and Japan. Dr. Eliot was in China at a very critical period in the establishment of the republic. He described with dramatic detail the extraordinary difficulties with which the young state was struggling to contend and with many of whom he came into intimate contact while at the Chinese capital and a large proportion of whom were educated in American universities and are striving to put into effect in China the ideals of democratic institutions which they acquired by contact with the American people.

The Folly of The Hague

By Rear-Admiral Alfred T. Mahan.

If "War is Hell," how avoid it? The camps of statesmen throughout the civilized world are divided on the answer—our two living Ex-Presidents are exponents of opposite solutions to this momentous problem! Can a nation's honor be arbitrated successfully, lastingly? Is disarmament the herald of peace among nations? "In time of peace, prepare for war" is an old adage, but in this enlightened age, we should heed the nobler admonition—In time of peace, prepare for peace. How? Rear-Admiral Mahan asks and answers this question in his masterful article, "The Folly of The Hague."

The Handicap of the Well-Born Child

By H. Addington Bruce.
Drawings by Harry Stoner.

Much has been written about the miserable influences which have shaped the characters of criminals who, in their early lives, were left to chance and deprived of moral culture. But why should the well-born child, whose parents seemingly leave nothing undone to promote his welfare physically and mentally, be surrounded by dangers equally as grave as his stigmatized brother? H. Addington Bruce's article is intensely interesting and educating to all parents.

SULZER IS NOMINATED FOR SEAT IN ALBANY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Former Gov. Sulzer was nominated for the Assembly tonight by the Progressives of the Sixth Assembly district. Mr. Sulzer in 1889 began his public career as a member of this branch of the State Legislature. Mr. Sulzer has agreed to accept the nomination, it was announced at the meeting where he was chosen as the candidate. Max Steindler, Progressive leader in the Sixth Assembly district, who placed the former Governor's name in nomination, said Mr. Sulzer reached him by telephone from Albany, inquiring if he had been designated. Mr. Steindler replied in the affirmative. He said he asked Mr. Sulzer if he would accept and Mr. Sulzer replied he would gladly do so.

The nomination of the impeached executive was brought against the desires of the State and county leaders of the Progressive party. The sentiment among the Progressives throughout the State and other States generally was against the nomination of State Chairman Theodore Douglas Robinson and County Chairman Francis W. Bird. Mr. Bird, in a letter to Mr. Steindler before the meeting began, cautioned him regarding "the wisdom of nominating Mr. Sulzer."

"Of course, it is a fundamental Progressive principle that the settled will of the people in any district should govern in the making of nomination," Mr. Bird pointed out that although 2200 voters in all parties, as he was informed out of a total of 6000 voters, had signed a petition favoring Mr. Sulzer's nomination, such a nomination would be a neighborly thing, would be more of a neighborhood than a party nomination. It would not be a strictly Progressive designation, but a nomination by the voters of all the parties in the district, using the vacancy that happens to be on the Progressive ticket for their purposes."

After Mr. Sulzer had been nominated unanimously tonight, there was a demonstration in the East Side meeting hall.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.), Oct. 20.—When Mr. Sulzer heard that the Progressives had nominated him for the Assembly, he said he would accept. He said he would accept for any office he wanted. He can go back to the Legislature from his old district.

with his nomination. He walked up and down his office in the mansion, smoking a cigar, smiling and telling his friends to fight his enemies to the last ditch.

He waved his callers to chairs and told them to tell him the regarded his removal a possible real blessing in disguise.

The Indians declare, he said, "that everything is for the best. I'm pretty much of an Indian myself. I've been out west fourteen times. Sometimes I go to the States where I belong. People out there have written me, since I started this fight against Tammany that if I were among them they would send me to the United States Senate."

He was silent for a moment, walking the length of the room. Suddenly he stopped, closed his eyes and said: "Yes, sir, I tried so hard that I lost my job."

"I'll see you here in January," he said and disappeared into his study with the injunction that he was not to be disturbed.

Man Alleged to Have a Wife in Portland, Me.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 20.—Confessing that he has a wife and daughter at Portland, Me., whom he has not seen since a year ago last August, P. D. Chamberlain, aged 29, is held at the County Jail on a charge of bigamy.

Chamberlain, who is a native of Maine, was arrested here last night, when he was charged with bigamy.

President Branton in His Annual Address Declares Against Recently-Passed Regulations in Many Western States Which Place New Burdens Upon the Companies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—"The crying need of the mining industry is a complete revision of the mining laws," said Dr. David W. Branton, President of the American Mining Congress, in his annual address here tonight.

Dr. Branton said the mine owner and miner of the West are being throttled by a gigantic smelting monopoly, which he claimed not only dictated the price to be paid for ore, but in some instances how much ore may be produced.

"Wildcat" promotion also was scored by the speaker, who concluded with the statement that the greatest enemy of the mining industry is the dictatorial power of a few men, given towards the creation of a Federal Bureau of Mines.

MURPHY SEEKS INVESTIGATION.

Letter from Tammany Chief Reaches Grand Jury.

Tired of Being Accused of "Colonizing" Voters.

Answers Charges Made by Fusion's Candidate.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, demanded today a grand jury investigation of charges alleged to have been made by John Furroy Mitchell, fusionist candidate for Mayor, to the effect that the Democratic organization leaders were colonizing for voters for use on election day.

A letter from Mr. Murphy demanding such an investigation was placed before the grand jury by Judge Malone of the Court of General Sessions.

"I request that you immediately submit to the grand jury now sitting, this matter," says the letter, "so that prompt action may be taken to investigate the charges made by Mr. Mitchell, and if they are substantiated, to prosecute the offenders to the full extent of the law."

"Charges of this sort recur in each succeeding campaign, but heretofore they have been made anonymously and it seems to me desirable that the names of the persons making the charges should be known. I enclose herewith a clipping, quoting Mr. Mitchell, and I place myself entirely at the disposal of your committee."

The grand jury was to investigate charges Mr. Mitchell may make.

After Mr. Murphy had been notified, he said by the court, gentlemen, that the subject matter of this letter is important," said Judge Malone to the grand jury. "If the report referred to in this communication be accurate then a specific charge has been made by a specific person against another of a serious offense against a law. The court directs you to take up at once this grave public matter."

Enterprising Brooklyn Youth Is Fined in Federal Court for Not Having License.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Elmer B. Myers, a Brooklyn youth, who set up a wireless plant on the roof of his home without first securing a Federal license to do so, was fined $10 today by United States Judge Mayer for violation of the radio act passed last June by congress.

His machine, according to the complaint, was tuned in pitch with the big government stations along the Atlantic Coast.

KRUTTSCHNITT SAYS ESPEE WILL FIGHT FOR CENTRAL.

Declares that if the Government Starts Suit to Dissolve Lease Between Two Lines, Which Have Always Been Operated Together, It Will Be Strongly Resisted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time since the United States government to loose its hold on the Southern Pacific has any official of the Southern Pacific outlined the policy of the company with reference to the plan of the Wilson administration to compel the sale of the Central Pacific.

The statement comes from Julius Kruttschnitt, the chairman of the Southern Pacific board. It is his view that the making no threat, but we are making no law in retaining the Central Pacific and the Central Pacific were built by the same men and have always been operated as a unit. If the government begins suit, we shall resist it.

There is a nice legal question involved, to which the attorneys of the Southern Pacific have been giving close attention and study for many months. It is whether the United States government has power to make the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act retroactive, even admitting that the operation of the Central and the Southern Pacific under one management is a "combination in restraint of trade," an admission which the Southern Pacific is by no means ready to make.

The Central Pacific was leased to the Southern Pacific in 1885 for a period of ninety-nine years, and the sale of the Central Pacific stock to the Southern Pacific was also made before the Sherman law was enacted. There is doubt whether even the United States government has power to compel a sale or dissolution under such circumstances, which amounts to making the operation of the Sherman law ex-post facto, and consequently, forbidden by the Constitution of the United States.

Kruttschnitt, who arrived in San Francisco last night, says that he is not here to indulge in any machinations against the peace and dignity of the United States, but to make an inspection of the property of the Southern Pacific in California. He says that he has every confidence that this suit on points of fact as well as law, if Attorney General McReynolds pushes the case into the courts, as is now threatened.

Kruttschnitt has little to say about the situation of the Third and Townsend depot. He says that the company is willing to go ahead, but not if blocked with impossible conditions by the authorities of San Francisco.

He will remain in California for about a week.

MRS. FITZHUGH FREED.

Member of Old Virginia Family Released in New York After Seven Months' Confinement.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Randolph Fitzhugh, a member of an old and prominent Virginia family, was set free by Justice Cavanagh in the Supreme Court on a suspended sentence today after having pleaded guilty a few days ago to the theft of a gold mesh bag and a gold bracelet.

It was said that relatives would take her to Washington, D. C. She has been in prison nearly seven months and is broken in health.

Fire at East St. Louis Causes Loss of Over Half a Million and Probable Death of Watchman.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—A fire that destroyed the Advance Elevator, the Chicago and Alton freight house, and a saloon in East St. Louis, Ill., last night and today, was still burning at the time of the dispatch. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. Most of the grain in the elevator was destroyed. The fire started in the elevator. The watchman employed at the elevator, it is thought, perished in the blaze. He did not turn in the alarm last night, though he is supposed to have been in the building.

Men Accused of Conducting a Cotton Corner Are Now Under a New Indictment in New York.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Eugene B. Stiles of Texas and Frank R. Hayne and William Brown of New Orleans entered tentative plans of not guilty today to the superseding indictment accusing them of having operated a corner in cotton in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. They were given ten days to demur or take their case to trial.

The defendants were originally indicted with James A. Patton of Chicago, who pleaded guilty and was fined $4000. The new indictment, which included Col. Robert M. Thompson as a defendant, was drawn to conform to a decision of the United States Supreme Court in the matter.

Letter from Wife to Chicago Is Introduced.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pictures of sweethearts, or chubbily-faced youngsters, at the scene of the fatal poisoning of a woman in a Pullman train, were introduced today in the successful operation of the railroad as a result of a new law passed by the management.

It is based on the general proposition that there is no place for sentiment in the successful operation of a railroad. When a conductor or engineer pulls out his whistle, he is to be devoted exclusively to the business of the train, and not to the sentimental, sweet or bitter, which may be caused by a picture of some woman who is or at one time was dear to him.

Testimony as to the fatal poisoning in the Pullman train was introduced today in the successful operation of the railroad as a result of a new law passed by the management.

According to Mungai, the mixed vote of the lawyers and the general conglomerate of that country would make tunneling a sort of hit-or-miss affair, in which millions might be expended for nothing. This had been the observation by him that no private firm would be liable to attempt such a risky venture, and to the question that only a city government for water might attempt the job.

HIS MOTIVE.
Champ Clark says he will not lecture. Champ will not do anything which looks like the encouragement of Mr. Bryan. They remain bitter friends.

A BRITISH EXPOSITION.
An exposition is to be held in London in 1915. Its purpose is to show to the world the progress of the British empire. No goods will be admitted for exhibition except such as were grown or made either in the United Kingdom or its colonies. As Great Britain has colonies in every part of the world the exhibition will not lack for variety.

CLOSE SHAVING.
A striking instance of the importance of small savings in big business is seen in the action of the Wells Fargo Co. This company pays all damage claims by check instead of in cash, because of the time lost in delivering the cash and obtaining a receipt. The cost of this time computed for all their offices all over the country swelled to a tidy sum of money. An indorsed check is a receipt in itself.

A BAD SIGN.
Have the Irish captured America? The question never worried us until this week. We have known the Irish were in politics and have not cared. Something has happened, however, and happened right here in this city, to give us deep concern. A few weeks ago all of the large new mail boxes in the downtown district were painted a bright orange. It looked at last as if the government were paying California some decent attention. Also for our hopes! Two mornings ago we awoke to find these same boxes painted over and this time they were green as shamrock. The Irish had resented the orange and had won another victory.

BEATING THE LAW.
For some time it has been impossible under Federal provisions to bring absinthe into this country or to sell it across an American bar. Men who drink are clever and those who sell things to drink are more clever still. The absinthe drinker is not on a hunger strike. He gets his, and gets it regularly. At least two brands of the stuff are on the local market under the label of delicate cordials. It is claimed that there is no wormwood in them, but absinthe it certainly is, although it wears a pleasantly thin disguise. Of course the government experts cannot afford to sample every cocktail and liquor introduced to the market, for, if they did, all life would consist of mornings after.

A LUCKY TOWN.
Huntington Park will be put on the free mail delivery system by the Postoffice Department this week. This is recognition of a thriving little city at the open gates of a larger one. Huntington Park would be a part of Los Angeles if Vernon did not come between, and it would be a lovely portion of the bigger city. Three fine new brick blocks have gone up there in the last month for business purposes, and no telling how many residences have been built. So much land is being sold between there and Long Beach for industrial sites that Huntington Park is becoming more and more popular as a city of homes. It is this growing up of the smaller places which is constantly making for a Greater Los Angeles.

KINDLY SOCIALISTS.
A recent issue of the Peace Forum contains a report of a debate between Dr. John Wesley Hill and Dr. Bourke White. The question under discussion was: "Resolved, that socialism is a peril to the state and to the church." Dr. White admitted that Socialism was such a peril and contended that it ought to be. He declared that if dynamite would put an end to the present social order, he and the Socialists who believe with him "would sell the coats off their backs to buy dynamite." He stated that they placed the red flag above the Stars and Stripes because they regarded the red flag as infinitely greater. This patriotic sentiment was vigorously applauded by the Socialist audience and not a single ovation egg was thrown at the speaker.

SLAVERY IN THE PHILIPPINES.
Reports which have been current for some time that peonage and even slavery still exist in parts of the Philippines are confirmed in a special report which William H. Phipps, auditor of the Philippine government, has sent to the War Department at Washington.

Mr. Phipps reports many cases of boys and girls sold into slavery by their parents, members of savage tribes. Slaves thus purchased are made to serve wealthy planters as field workers and servants.

The report was made in response to a demand for information expressed in a resolution introduced by Senator Borah and adopted by the United States Senate. The Senator now has made known his intention to introduce a bill which, if enacted into law, will put a stop to this condition which, of course, must not be tolerated under the American flag.

It is to be noted at the same time that the fact that slavery does exist in the Philippines is added evidence that the people of that country, regarded as a whole, are still far from being fit for absolute self-government, no matter what President Wilson or Secretary Bryan may think or say to the contrary.

SKIRTS AND DYNAMITE.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst has been admitted to the United States by the immigration authorities. It seems that she is scheduled to appear on several lecture platforms, and members of the present administration—Mr. Bryan, for instance—know how very important are such schedules. So, having assisted her publicity agents by detaining her a night or so at Ellis Island (making her comfortable in Mr. Caminetti's suite of offices, however,) with the threat of deportation, Mrs. Pankhurst is to be allowed to fulfill her Chautauqua engagements. It is no secret that she needs the money—for in England dynamite is expensive and the purses of the militant suffragettes are empty.

Of course, it is understood by all sane persons that Mrs. Pankhurst differs from other foreign dynamiters with whom our immigration authorities have had dealings. In that she wears skirts. Skirts make a tremendous amount of difference among gallant men; and those in the administrative positions of this country seldom fail to disclose their chivalry by tempering their judicial decisions with clemency for members of the "fairer sex"—a distinction, however, that the photographs of Mrs. Pankhurst fail to establish.

She comes to us with a notorious criminal record. But that makes her all the more interesting. Had she not been so notorious it is barely possible that Mr. Caminetti might not have developed so remarkable a case of gallantry as to surrender his spacious offices for her accommodation. Mrs. Pankhurst has no contrition because of her crimes. In fact, she is a veritable gasconade; she glories in her destructive ability, and classes herself with martyrs who have been persecuted by malicious governments. Yet, with mildness—nay, it was almost with the appearance of compassion—our immigration authorities ruled from the hearing those clippings out of London newspapers that recorded the atrocities of her dynamite and petroleum campaigns. But then she differs from other dynamiters in that she wears skirts.

Perhaps these same people, whose tender hearts are annoyingly conspicuous, who interpret the government on behalf of one Mr. Dicks and one Mr. Caminetti for assistance in relieving them from the legal effects of a so-called "youthful frolic," also came forward to succor Mrs. Pankhurst—and her press agent.

About three months ago Commissioner of Immigration Caminetti, whose name recently has figured quite prominently in the news dispatches, ordered the deportation from San Francisco of a Russian "undesirable." A terrible creature he was; an escaped exile from Siberia where he had been sent by the Russian government. His offense was frightful; also he was poor and had no Chautauqua engagements.

This Russian had been sent to Siberia for life because he was the author of a pamphlet advocating a democratic form of government for Russia—a democracy which, as he outlined it, would be almost identical with that of the United States. For that reason alone he was expelled for life to the land of perpetual ice; for that heinous offense Mr. Caminetti could not bear to have him remain in this country—this democracy that the poor, foolish Russian had idolized in his ignorance.

But he is wiser now. The next pamphlet that he writes will probably treat of some democracy that thinks enough of its principles to at least welcome from persecution its champions and defenders. And if he ever comes to the United States again, and really wants to get in, he will first make a record for himself as a dynamiter and an incendiary; he will also have a press agent and Chautauqua engagements secured in advance—and, also, he will wear skirts.

CIRCUS STREET PARADES.

The indispensable attraction of a circus is the preliminary street parade. The spangled and feathered riders on gaily caparisoned steeds; the motley-clad clown, riding a small, spotted, subservient burro; the calliope on a wagon shrieking the music of "Hail Columbia" with never a diminutive of lust to flinch; the bands "with sonorous metal blowing martial sounds"; the circus ladies with abbreviated skirts and fantastic headgear, piled on a pyramid wagon like Oases upon Pelion; the stately elephants marching along with dignity and composure; the camels with two humps and vicious countenances; the majestic lions, the wicked tigers, the lithe leopards and the monkeys caricaturing human nature.

All these appear in the circus street parade. This is it that lets Broadway and Seventh street with children and "grown-ups" and bushes the foot and steps the onward rush of autos, and piles the cross streets with long lines of trolley cars, and causes citizens who are in haste to reach their destination and who care not for circus parades to speak cross words.

And yet who would, if he could, dispense with the circus street parades? and who does not sympathize with the people of Arkansas in their determined purpose not to be any longer deprived of these destructive zoological displays?

Year by year in Arkansas these circus street parades have been abridged by the sordid managers of the one-ring, two-ring and three-ring shows until finally the outrage culminated with their complete omission.

Then the State of Arkansas arose in her might and, with her emblem of an apple blossom in her button hole, proceeded to resent the circus disregard of the rights of the people. She resented an old law which authorized a heavy fine upon circuses which advertised attractions that they fail to produce, and she notified circus proprietors that they cannot enter any Arkansas community to give a show unless they enter in the good, old-fashioned fashion of a street parade.

"The other forty-seven States of the American Union," says an eastern exchange, "will congratulate and applaud Arkansas for taking proper steps to restore the circus to its normal attitude toward the people. It is the street parade that moves popular emotions, that leads the children to help about the house, that causes the serious-minded father to consent to take the family to the show, although he cares nothing for such nonsense himself, that draws the people from the rural districts, that really gives civic impulse to the enterprise.

"Join Us and Enjoy It."

Take the parade away and to the great majority of people the circus is no longer a circus.

But, more than this, allow the parade to go without protest and what would be the next step? A too tolerant people would find, perhaps, no elephant tossing him in the outer vestibule, lemonade that had lost its traditional tint, no sawdust in the arena, a reduction of the peanut-vending force, the clown in a business suit, motorcycles substituted for wild Arabian steeds, everything changed or everything changing, so that the last vestiges of the circus of other days would vanish, never, perhaps, to return. Fortunately for us all, Arkansas has awakened to the situation. Arkansas has led the vanguard; let the nation follow.

MEXICAN CIVILIZATION.

The Americans resident in the City of Mexico protest against the decision of President Wilson that he will not recognize the result of any election for President that may be held on the 26th instant, unless there shall be a full and free ballot—meaning thereby that all Mexican males of age shall be allowed to vote without any qualification.

The Americans assert that 75 per cent. of the Mexicans can neither read nor write, are without moral perceptions, are as utterly unfit to intelligently exercise the right of suffrage as any coyotes, and that to give them the power to vote would be to perpetuate the conditions of brigandage which have for so many months desolated Mexico.

It will not be denied by those conversant with the conditions existing in our unfortunate sister republic that a majority of its people owe little or nothing to European civilization and have not advanced in freedom or in the arts and sciences since the day, 356 years ago, when Cortez and his band set out from Cuba and discovered the eastern shores of Mexico.

Abbott says that in A.D. 1517 there were villages and large cities in Mexico. Temples and other buildings, imposing in massive architecture, were reared of stone and lime. Armies, laws and a symbolic form of writing indicated a very considerable advance in the arts and the energies of civilization. Many of the arts were cultivated. Cloth was made of cotton and of skins nicely prepared. Astronomy was sufficiently understood for the accurate measurement of time in the divisions of the solar year. The Aztecs understood the movements of the heavenly bodies before Herchel constructed the telescope, and comprehended the laws of gravitation before Newton saw the apple fall.

Agriculture was practiced with scientific skill, and there was an elaborate and extensive system of irrigation. Mines of gold, silver and copper were worked and they had the art of tempering the latter metal so as to make it available for weapons and implements. They lacked a knowledge of producing iron from ore, and gunpowder was unknown to them. Had they possessed these Cortez could never have taken and held the halls of the Montezumas. The Spanish goldsmiths, admiring the exquisite workmanship of the gold and silver ornaments of the Mexicans, bowed to their superiority.

Fairs were held in the great market-places of the principal cities every fifth day where buyers and sellers in vast numbers thronged. They had public schools, courts of justice, a class of nobles and a powerful monarch. They believed in one Supreme God, but had a number of inferior deities. They had a heaven, a hell and a purgatory. They had a rite of infant baptism. Their priests received confession and possessed the power of absolution. They had large armies trained to military discipline. Their penal code punished homicide, assaults, thieving, adultery, removing landmarks, altering measures, defrauding a ward of property, intemperance, idleness and spendthrift habits. The rites of marriage were formally enacted and rigidly adhered to. They killed prisoners taken in war, but they did not roast and eat them, as the soldiers of Cortez did in Honduras. They did not slaughter non-combatants as the soldiers of Carranza did at Torreon. They did not burn alive captives taken in battle as Velasquez did.

Mexico seems to have gained little or nothing in civilization in 400 years. Porfirio Diaz recognized this fact and governed Mexico in the only way it was possible to govern such a people—by the strong hand. Huerta has thus far kept the republic from utter dissolution by analogous methods. It is a pity that American property and the lives of Americans in Mexico should be kept in continuous jeopardy by President Wilson closing his ears to counsel, and insisting that the election to be held on the 26th instant should be conducted as if the voters were members of a Princeton Phi Beta Kappa or a Baptist conference.

KILLING THE CALVES.

The enormous increase in the exportation of beef from Argentina and other South American countries is largely due to the enactment of laws making it an offense punishable with severe penalties to slaughter female calves, heifers, or cows under six years of age. This has resulted in an immense increase in the breeding herds in those countries.

The United States is the greatest real-estate-consuming country in the world. Its demand for real estate is so great that the number of calves slaughtered has increased 100 per cent. in the last ten years. In the Year Book of Swift Company it is stated that during 1911 there were slaughtered 8,000,000 calves. If they had been allowed to live one year they would have averaged 600 pounds of good beef and would have been worth to the country 4,800,000 pounds of beef instead of only 500,000,000 pounds. According to a conservative estimate this 4,800,000,000-pound beef would furnish a city of 350,000 people with its total meat supply for over fifty years.

The effect of excessive slaughter of calves is apparent not only in the advance in the price of beef, but in the increased value of the imports of animal refuse, which in 1911 was in round numbers $145,000,000 and in 1912 was $205,000,000. The greatest single increase was in cattle hides, which almost doubled.

For the first time in our history the exports of animals and animal products of all kinds in 1912 fell below the imports in value.

Notwithstanding the slaughter of calves and the reduction in production of beef and lack of increase in herds the United States still leads the world in the number of calves, sheep and hogs. We had last year 168,000,000, Russia in Europe and Asia 143,000,000, India 140,000,000, Australia 104,000,000, Argentina 98,000,000, Germany 51,000,000, the United Kingdom 46,000,000, and France 39,000,000.

In 1906 we exported $250,000,000 worth of meat products and food animals. Last year our exports were reduced to $150,000,000. The reduction occurred chiefly in beef. There has been but a slight reduction in pork products.

There have been in cold-storage warehouses in Atlantic cities and in San Francisco a number of cargoes of Australian and Argentine beef. Under the new tariff law this frozen meat is now released from bond. The boards of health of every municipality should require such meat to be examined, and if it is found that formaldehyde or other deleterious substance has been used in preserving it should be condemned and cremated. Even when it is passed as free from taint of any kind, it should be labeled as imported meat. Plenty of people will not eat meat that has been in cold storage six months or a year.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Oh, the gowns the girls are wearing! All the moralists are tearing out their ringlets by the bushes; maybe that's the reason why womanhood is so persistent, why reform demands vague and distant, for we all are rather tickled when we hear the censors cry. Boys are smoking fierce old stogies just because they know we fogies hold that smoking's vile and harmful and they like to jar our souls; and ten thousand men are sneaking to saloons because we're shrieking always of the deep damnation that is born of flowing bowls. Is it really so surprising that folks tire of moralizing, tire of seeing hands in horror raised whatever they may do? Maybe if we'd quit our preaching, cease to bust our moral breeches, they would do their own reforming and all sinful things cease. The experiment is easy; let us can our maxims wheezy when we see the women wearing dresses of mosquito bar; they will doubtless cease to wear it when they see it lacks the merit of imparting to beholders any sort of joy or fear.

ARROYO SECO PARKS.

BY HARRY BOWLING.

We have turned the old-time, dry meads in the north and west of Los Angeles into a delight of shade and flowers and velvet lawns, the cynosure of every stranger and the joy of every householder. We have covered the hills north and east with homes and gardens, as fair as the most exacting could desire. In Echo, Hollenbeck, Westlake and Eastlake parks we have shown what landscape effects can be produced when western men combine with western nature.

But the most beautiful of all our natural surroundings we have so far entirely neglected. The Arroyo Seco from the Devil's Gate above Pasadena to Sycamore Grove in East Los Angeles has not received the attention, the care, the comparatively small expense that would so easily convert it into a succession of magnificent parks.

We could do far more here than San Francisco has done in Golden Gate Park, and how much Golden Gate Park has done for San Francisco our citizens hardly seem to realize.

In this respect we have allowed the northern city to get ahead of us. Let us go ahead of it and construct a park from this wide sweep of stream and woodland—to put San Francisco once more behind us. Nature offers us a challenge in the extensive Arroyo Seco, scooped out of the earth as a natural driveway to the front door of the city. Why treat it as a "service entrance" only?

Los Angeles will soon be the busiest center west of the Rocky Mountains; Pasadena is already the most ideal home city on earth. What better proof could we give of our civic pride than to connect these two with a string of parks that shall be something unique in the history of landscape gardening?

Adolphus Busch—to whose memory Pasadena should erect a worthy monument—has already shown us what art and money can effect in one small section of the Arroyo. His sunken gardens are the show place of the Crown City, the best advertisement she has ever had. We cannot treat the whole Arroyo on the same liberal scale, but can turn it into a bower of beauty at a moderate expense, to be a park for our citizens, a pleasure resort for holiday makers and a perpetual playground for the children. We have performed much harder tasks.

We have built and are building ornamental bridges across this mighty gorge; we are not grudging the expense. Why leave what is half completed by neglecting the gorge itself?

What a wonderful panorama it presents to the lover of nature! Stand on the slope of the oak-studded hills that stretch from South Pasadena to Highland Park and take a comprehensive view of the wooded glen through which serpentine the bed of the Arroyo. There are blots on the landscape; a huge tumbledown, whitewashed barn, a rickety, black trestle bridge, a crude rock-crushing plant, too many shanties, ugly, bare patches of rock and sand where uncontrolled floods have washed away their banks, too much tangle of weeds and rubbish.

In spite of these drawbacks the general effect is one to enthuse an artist and inspire a poet. Imagine the result if all these eyesores were removed, if the stream was confined to one deep channel, if the superfluous brush and weeds were replaced with green grass and flower beds and a smooth, oiled road followed the meanderings of the stream. There are trees enough and shrubs enough, the natural beauty would not have to be tampered with. Not a single tree, sycamore, willow or wild elder should feel the destroying ax. Construction, not destruction, will be the order of the day.

The expenditure of a large amount of good taste and inspired planning, coupled with a little grading, digging and planting, would give us five miles of parkland scenery not to be surpassed this side of Pasadena, much less in San Francisco.

Money? Yes, it would cost money to refashion the Arroyo Seco and provide for its upkeep. The small assessment, however, levied on each property holder along the improved sections would come back a hundredfold in the increased value of their holdings.

Highland Park has already a civic league formed to boost for such a project; Garvanza is a community of artists; South Pasadena has never been lacking in civic pride, and Pasadena itself is not a city of paupers. East Los Angeles needs to stir itself, to add a progressive punch to the programme, if East Los Angeles expects to attract some of the capital that is pouring into West Adams street and Pico Heights and Hollywood. Here she has the chance to make her section as famous as the Palisades at Santa Monica or Smiley Heights at Redlands.

Consent of the public spirit of all interested in the most beautiful stretch of natural scenery to be found in the suburbs of Los Angeles; an avenue designed by the Creator, to lead to the gates of his fairest city. We boast of how we have made the desert blossom as the rose; shall we allow a natural rosebush to grow nothing but thorns and foliage?

PEARS AND ACORNS.

A Thought by Harry Bowling.

A Frenchman once said that there is only fifteen minutes in the life of a pear when it is worth eating. The sex-charm, for the voluptuary, is an short as the fruit-charm of the Frenchman's pear. To witness the salacious plays and read the sex-problem literature of the day, one would suppose the whole race viewed woman's charms as the Frenchman viewed the pear—something to be devoured during its fifteen minutes of perfect ripeness. For financial reasons a few theatrical managers and some newspaper editors are exploiting the ripe-pear theory of sex.

The true charm of woman is like an acorn from which springs the sturdy oak, branching outward and upward and adding ring upon ring to the green alburnum for hundreds of years. And every year dropping fresh acorns into the fertile soil. Were it not for the devastating propensities of incomplete man, the acorns found in the charm of one true woman—a charm that lasts for life—would in time reforest the whole world with goodness.

As it is, we have plenty of acorns and but few oak trees; too many pear eaters for every pear; human life in abundance, producing a little virtue and a little vice. Active right and active wrong are but the necessary salt in an ocean of passive mediocrity.

Love ignores Resolutions.
[Philadelphia Press:] "What broke up the club?" asked one young lady from Bryn Mawr, of her friend, both being members of the club for girls who would not marry a man getting less than $10,000 a year.
"A young clerk getting $10 a week," said Ida, as the conductor tried not to smile.

"It becomes more and more difficult to buy the high grade cut hair," Kann declared. "As civilization spreads through the out-of-the-way places in Europe the women take more pride in their looks and each year fewer of them are willing to sacrifice their hair."

"With the source of supply decreasing we find the demand for false hair increasing. Thin hair among women and baldness among men is increasing in all civilized countries. It appears that the time will come when there will be universal baldness. And of course when human heads quit growing hair there will be no source of supply and substitutes will have to be found for false hair."

Kann tells a secret. He whispers that many an American woman is wearing a switch made from the "pig-tail" of a Chinese. The hair expert says that about $1,000,000 worth of bulk hair is imported annually from China. It consists of the combings from the heads of both men and women and sells, wholesale, for $4 to $10 a pound.

"The coarse human hair from China is treated with chemicals which shrink it and make the texture finer. It is dyed and otherwise transformed. There is no danger of disease from the hair brought from China, however, because the chemicals with which it is treated before it is made up kills all germs."

Man on the Team.

Now Is the Leading Slugger of the Sox.

Bats Left-Handed Against

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From one of the weak sticks to leading cluster of the team in one year's time was the feat accomplished by "Buck" Weaver, sterling young shortstop of the White Sox. It was announced today by the official statisticians of the American League that Weaver's batting average for the season just ended is .375 and that his mark is the highest on the Sox team. Besides gaining the honor of leading the team in batting, Weaver won a prize of a silver bat and ball donated early in the season by a Chicago merchant. The gift to be given to the leading hitter of the Sox.

Had one predicted a year ago that Weaver would lead the Sox in batting in 1918, one would have been laughed at. Nevertheless, there was one member of the White Sox who predicted that very thing, and the prophet was none other than "Kid" Gleason. One year ago there were fourteen players on the south side who predicted that very thing, and the prophet was none other than "Kid" Gleason. One year ago there were fourteen players on the south side who predicted that very thing, and the prophet was none other than "Kid" Gleason.

His weakness in 1917 was going after curve balls, and by turning around to the curve balls always would be coming toward him instead of going away from him. He overcame his weakness and raised his batting mark nearly fifty points. All through the season Weaver was in a close race for the batting honors with Reddy, Chase and Cap. Lord. Both Manager Callahan and "Kid" Gleason believe that "Buck" will enter the 500 class of hitters next season.

TWO RECORDS ARE BROKEN.

FISHING SEASON AT CATALINA HAS BEEN GOOD.

Largest Swordfish and Largest Tuna Are Caught; Also Many Good-sized Fish of Different Varieties Are Hooked—So Bluefin
Tuna Are Taken.

AYALON, Oct. 18.—The official returns of the Tuna Club for the fifteenth summer angling tournament were made today, showing that during the past season two records had been broken—for the largest swordfish, 345 pounds, by W. C. Roehen of New York City, and for the largest tuna taken upon light tackle. This fish was brought to gaff by R. Rochester, Jr., and weighed 174 pounds. The monster swordfish landed by Roehen was of the fat-tailed variety and was the first of its kind ever landed in these waters. It is estimated that over 10,000 pounds of fish have been brought to gaff by anglers competing in the summer tournaments. The following are the prize winners:

For the largest white sea bass: Dr. W. E. Sawyer of New York City, first; W. E. Harris, Avalon, second.
For the largest yellowtail: C. G. Teet of Santa Ana, first; A. W. Hooper of Boston, second; Dr. W. E. Sawyer of New York, third.
For the largest tuna: R. Rochester, Jr., of New York, first; Ella M. Baldwin of Avalon, second; G. E. Politt of New York, third.

For the largest swordfish: William C. Roehen of New York, first; P. C. Newport of Chicago, second; C. A. Lindley of Portland, Or., third.
For the largest bonito: W. W. Wilson of Little Rock, Ark.

For the largest blue sea bass: E. T. Wallace of Los Angeles.
For the largest fish taken on light tackle: J. A. Cone of Los Angeles.

Besides the many prizes which have been given to the winning anglers, consisting of cups, medallions and fishing paraphernalia, numerous other prizes have been given to boatmen for their services in assisting anglers in securing the largest fish of the different varieties.

No tuna of the bluefin variety have been brought to gaff during the season, but during the latter part of August the yellowfin tuna furnished considerable sport. This variety, however, does not develop to the ponderous size of its more erratic brother who visits the California coast at infrequent intervals. The majority of anglers seem satisfied with a morning's fishing after landing two or three good-sized yellowfin. The smallest yellowfin of the season was recorded by Edmund Othaus of New York, a specimen weighing twenty pounds.

GOULD AND PRICE PLAY QUICK GAME.

Gould won from R. A. Price in fifty-seven innings last night in Morley's three-cushion tournament, making thirty-five points to twenty, with high run of four. The players having all played one game each, the score now shows Lawlor, Condon, Capelle and Gould as winners, and Thompson, Frick, Ashton and Price as losers.

Lawlor and Condon are matched for tonight, in what promise to be one of the most interesting games of the tourney.

Marlin Catton, a young professional now visiting the city, ran thirteen points at three cushions in the rooms on Sunday.

George Chip's real name is George Stenhouse Chipman. He is of Lithuanian parentage; was born at Scranton, Pa.; is 34 years old; is a patient plodder, like Jim Flynn, and saves all his money. When he fought Kline and won the highest honors in the middleweight division, he was lying at the point of death, and the club already had a substitute ready in case the girl died before the men entered the ring.

Buck Weaver.

Of the White Sox, who developed from the poorest hitter on the team last year, until he is now the best. He formerly played with the San Francisco Seals.

In the Lead.

QUAKER ELEVEN LOOKS GOOD FOR THE TITLE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WHITTIER COLLEGE, Oct. 20.—The decisive defeat of the Redlands' variety at the hands of the Quakers makes it possible to draw some comparison on the respective merits of the rival teams. The Baptists, heretofore an unknown quantity, have demonstrated the fact that they are hardly of championship caliber, although they were seriously handicapped in Saturday's game by the loss of Full-back Hentache.

The Quakers, although not at their best, showed that they are real contenders for the tag this year. The line is improving with every game, while the work of the back field is fast making it a sure scoring machine. No serious injuries have handicapped the Quakers thus far, although Finch's arm is slightly strained from the Baptists' game. Walt Cammack's shoulder is still weak, but is slowly rounding into shape. Tackle Finley has a "charley horse" which must be favored, but should be well in a few days.

SAM LANGFORD AND JACK LESTER START TRAINING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Active training for the big fight at Taft on Monday, October 27, between Sam Langford and Jack Lester, has started at both camps and is being followed by hundreds of fight fans with increasing interest. Of course, Langford is the favorite by big numbers to one, but there are a certain few who express the opinion in no uncertain terms that the 23-year-old Lester will make a successful bid for the long end of the purse.

In Bakersfield it is believed by a large number that it is a matter of time before Lester will make a meal ticket fight, and this statement comes from Lester's doubtful showing against Horn last Fourth of July. If Lester is in the A. 1 class, he did not show it on that night. He did show himself to be a big, husky kid, fairly strong on his feet, and with his arms, who could take a

Giants Are Outlit, but Win
Just the Same.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SPRINGFIELD, (Ill.) Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although out-hit, two to one, the Giants trimmed the White Sox in the third game of their world's tour this afternoon at the local Three-I League grounds, 6 to 4. Doolan of the Phillies scored four of the runs for the Giants when he poked out a home run in the fourth with the bases full. Thorpe scored a run in the first inning when he knocked the ball over the fence for the circuit. Scott and Benz worked for the White Sox and Fromme and Mathewson for the Giants.

In the seventh inning the Sox filled the bases with one out, but Fromme held them without a score. Winco, who did the catching for the Giants, doubled in the seventh and scored on an infield out and a passed ball. The Sox bunched three hits for two runs in the first inning. In the fourth two more bunched hits sent another run across. The crowd was a slim one, cold weather accompanied by a snowstorm, making things unpleasant both for the players and the spectators. The score:

White Sox	4	1	1	2	12	0
Giants	6	1	1	2	12	0

CARDINAL GOSSIP.

[Special Correspondence of the Times.]
STANFORD, Oct. 19.—During the rally after Saturday's game, in a speech showing the warmth of feeling between the visiting All Blacks and their Stanford hosts, Manager George H. Mason of the New Zealanders said:

"Our boys want to know whether they can get a shake-down if they come down to Stanford on a visit. Receiving a hearty response, he continued, saying that he was bending every effort to have the All Star-All Black game on the Stanford turf. The visitors have been giving the varsity ruggers pointers on the game and will work on Monday side by side with the Stanford players. Series of combination plays will be worked out and executed, and some methods of offense and defense discussed.

This should give the Cardinals many new ideas and should give them a head over many of their opponents. On Sunday the All Blacks will see the Big Trek, take a plunge in the Casino tank at Santa Cruz, and dine at the Hotel Casa del Rey. After the workout with the Stanford ruggers on Monday afternoon they will bid good-by to Stanford.

Loweridge, the New Zealander who played half during part of Saturday's game, is again laid up with a bad ankle, which was sprained in the New Zealand-Australian game.

The Stanford Union, a club for the alumni and a common meeting place for the entire student body, has been formally launched. Complete plans call for two buildings, joined by an arcade, one for the men and one for the women.

Future Stanford-California debates may be held in San Francisco if the propositions submitted by the Executive Committee of the University of California to Stanford debaters is approved.

Members of the Golf Club are trying to secure a suitable green upon which to hold the annual tournament with California, which is scheduled for late in November.

A ball with a history.

This Ball Was Used in the Only Game Won by the Giants from the Athletics and in Which Chief Meyers Broke His Thumb—A Rare Keepsake.

Dr. C. C. Smith of this city is the proud possessor of a baseball presented to him by John Chief Meyers, star catcher of the New York Giants.

This ball was used in the game October 8 at Philadelphia, the only game taken by the Giants from the Athletics. Chief Meyers broke his thumb while warming up for this game and was not allowed to play in any more of the world's series games, but he sent the ball to Dr. Smith as a special token of his friendship and the doctor is very proud of it, as it is probably the only world's series ball on the Coast.

STANTON PICKS HIS FIRST SQUAD.

[BY DESK WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CLAREMONT, Oct. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Coach Stanton picked the squad of men with which he will attempt to bring back the football championship to Pomona College this fall. The coach emphasized the fact that the preliminary period for the major games was to commence forthwith. He then picked a squad of twenty-three men and put them on the training list. The following men occupied places in the training table, which was inaugurated tonight: Capt. H. R. Wilson, W. S. Henderson, T. G. Rice, S. W. Jensen, H. A. Youngman, Frankie Cogswell, F. L. Lebe, Jr., E. W. Gushue, R. R. Waltz, R. T. McCulloch, V. E. Brennen, G. J. Merritt, Howard Krause, H. A. Elliott, Donald Fox, H. R. Greely and H. L. Clary. Manning Siemon, last year's Chaffee High School captain, registered here today. Siemon was unanimously chosen for all-southern interscholastic tackle in 1917, and is also at home in the backfield. He should prove a valuable man to Stanton in either position.

PENN WORKS HARD.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Despite the overwhelming victory over Brown on Saturday, the University of Pennsylvania football coaches were by no means pleased with the work of the lineemen and sent the players through a half-hour hard drill in defensive work against the scrubs today.

school teaching and is a pupil of Harry Gilmore, father of young Harry, who is well known in Los Angeles. There is as much difference between the present-day boxers (with a very few exceptions) as there is between day and night.

The present-day mitt artists, as they call themselves, as soon as they get hit, cover up in a shell like a turtle and cannot either do anything themselves or even protect themselves when pitted against a clever man who knows the game.

McFarland's style is to stand up straight, fight the other fellow into doing what he wants him to do and then beat him to it.

Most of his opponent's blows are avoided by simply pulling his head or body out of the way just at the right time and make them miss.

While he is not considered a knock-outer, he does not have to do so to win his contests.

The old straight line between two given points is the shortest distance was the maxim the old-timers first learned. And the boxer today who follows up that rule will come out on top nine times out of ten.

Packy once told me when I asked him where he learned to box. "Why, I learned from Mr. Gilmore and have met many old-timers since who have complimented me on the same thing. We are never too old to learn, and I am still willing."

This boy McFarland will be one of the greatest losses the boxing game will ever have when he retires.

Visit of Harry Vardon and Edward Ray Shows Possibility of a Big Match.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The visit of Edward Ray, Harry Vardon and other English golfers to this country has prompted talk of having annually a series of golf matches similar to those of the Davis cup tennis series. It is reported that one of the leading clubs in this country is referring the idea to the British golf authorities, and that the offer of a cup already has been made by the American club.

WILL AMERICAN RUGBY TEAMS EVER ADVANCE?

Recent Play of the All Blacks Shows that Our Teams Know Very Little of Real Rugby—Berkeley to Have No Cinch With Stanford—A Trojan Reserve—Some Rare Sport Promised by Both Coaches.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE New Zealand All Blacks seem to have hit their pace, that is if the two games just played with Stanford can be taken as any criterion. In every department of Rugby, the invaders have absolutely outclassed the Cardinals and probably would have done so much for the University of California in the first game played at Berkeley, had it not been for that terrible thing they called a football field up in the haunt of the Bears. Before we get to the spring turf, it was practically impossible to get any formations or speed started on the slow muddy California field.

Many of California's supporters are now crowing with glee over the awful downfall suffered by the Cardinals, last week, but we advise a discreet silence, the scores against Stanford don't necessarily mean much for the Cardinals, that much worse than the blue and gold.

It must be remembered that the big game is to be played on the Stanford turf this season and that this will give one edge to the Cards and then there is no getting around the fact that the Stanford backs are faster than those of California backs. But the point is, how much would the All Blacks defeat California on a turf field? Answer this and you could then draw a good line of comparison between the two northern universities, and probably win a bet.

Where Will It All End. But there is a point that gets to the thinking sportsman and that is will the American football player ever learn to play Rugby? We have been trying to learn the game for seven years. The Waratahs came over and showed us up last year and we thought that many of the weak spots had been patched up this season, but along come these All Blacks and make our men look like a lot of boobies, trying to ride the trick mule at the circus. They tell us that the whole American idea of Rugby is wrong, that the men do not make any of the plays right, and in fact that our teams are very and things.

Well if so bad, what are we going to do about it? The old game was run out on account of roughness and mass play, then comes Rugby, supposed to be wide open and malleable, but what difference does mass play make to the malleable, and when they come out for rough stuff, it makes a battle royal look like a Sunday-school picnic. The visitors are our tanking in the only good feature of our play, and that the Americans can pull more stuff than we ever heard of before.

The answer is just this, our men like the smell of battle, they like to win, are fond of strategy, they like to football campaign in just like any military plan of battle, just as much as just as intricate. To play Rugby right, we would have to change the temperament of our men, but instead of that, our men have changed Rugby, so there you are.

Will It Come to This. On the other hand the American game has been steadily developing and is now something wonderful to behold. If it takes seven years to make no gain at all in the science of Rugby, it simply means that in the course of time a game will grow up in these parts which will be a combination of Rugby and American football. It may not be within the next five years, but before another ten has rolled around, there is apt to be a new brand of football—and under conditions combining the good points of Rugby and intercollegiate football, a truly great game could be formed.

Peace Is Declared. Peace has been declared. The Trojans and the L.A.A.C. have decided that during the remaining games of the present series the Silverwood cup, real Rugby will be the order of the day and not this survival of the fittest thing. This is a fine thing and a step in the right direction. Under the regime started last Saturday, the clubs were the ultimate losers, owing to the fact that clubs cannot hope to get into the condition of varsity men, they are not playing football every day, therefore cannot hope to attain a high state of physical perfection. There was evidently some misunderstanding on both sides Saturday, due to reports spread by some busybodies, with the result that neither team was going to be imposed on. Of course the Trojans had the condition and the Club suffered.

For Mutual Aid. Now these games are for the benefit of both squads. It gives U.S.C. a chance to get hard competition before the big games with the Northern universities, and also gives the L.A.A.C. team a chance to get into shape for its battle with the winner of the northern club series. Coach Higgins announced yesterday that he would see that his men played the same sort of football as that played by any team visiting toward field, so that should be enough, as Pat is a man of his word. Capt. Now Mitchell of the L.A.A.C. squad also stated that he would see that his men played Rugby on the field and that if there were any differences they were to be settled in the street after the game. Mitchell is also a man of his word, so we are therefore assured of some rare sport for the next two week-ends.

Trojan Varsity Finds Itself. The Trojan squad is fast finding itself in all departments of the game. The backfield is at last becoming efficient, while the forwards have improved remarkably all of which is due to that peerless leader, Pat Higgins.

"Cupid" Haney, on right wing, proved a sensation Saturday. This little ball of speed and muscle is there when it comes to running through a scattered field. He uses the dummy pass and swerves well.

Capt. Alber, at half, is also playing a strong game and begins to look like the best half ever seen in action here. Bill Haney at first five is filling up in his usual acceptable manner. Bill is a very versatile young person and plays anywhere on the team, but at first five he gets his passes away fast and accurately.

Only at second five is the big full-low of the backfield and is finding himself at last, and before the season is done, should be a terror to all opposing him.

Laird, now at center three, supplies the "pop" for the backs and is very valuable here on account of his speed and ability to advance the ball. On the other wing, it is now a battle between Sheppard and Tipton. At the present time Sheppard is in a slight slump, while Tipton looks very good, but both should get a chance in the big game.

Scrum Warriors Shine. In the scrum, Taylor and Teschke, the two breakers, are playing like mad. Taylor, new at the game this season, has picked up a world of knowledge from his veteran teammates. Teschke, who in turn is playing the greatest game of his career, Harris at lock is proving one of those stone-wall things, while his passes out of the scrum to the backs savor of real class.

Elmore and Jones, in the second rank, are two of the hardest fighters on the team, and while their work does not always show, they are always there a thousand in the pinches. In the front rank, "Irish" Tootan, the veteran hooker, is another who is playing his greatest game. Frank was always good, but he is class this year. Barones and Haines, Tootan's two pals in the battle line, are working like old-timers, and nobody ever starts anything that they cannot finish. These front rankers follow the ball and play it, which is something that cannot be too highly commended.

On the second team, James, Ortliey, Beach, Davis, Bacon, Bill Mason and Underhill are all of very caliber. Neuner, the fullback for the varsity at the present time, is coming up. He always had a good boot, but now that he is finding touch, he is of great value to the team.

It is impossible to mention all the hard-working men on the second team, but let it be remembered that every one is a hero and it is through their efforts that the varsity is what it is today, and for no other reason in the world.

One Sad Feature. But there is one thing that is very sad at the University of Southern California. The Rugby squad would do any college in the world proud, but the student support of this same galaxy of hard-fighting, grim warriors is little short of a crime.

Instead of having every man in the university behind it, the varsity has to be content with a handful of loyal rooters at each game, that could be out-yelled by any High School in the citrus belt. The varsity and Coach Higgins can do a lot, but cannot do it all; they need the cheers of the rooters, and U.S.C. could have thousands in the bleachers under the proper conditions.

U.S.C. is no longer a secondary institution, in athletics or anything else, but it seems that none of its students have awakened to this fact, outside of the men on the team.

Wake up, Trojans, clip off the Rip Van Winkle stuff and get in the game, otherwise you and your teams will be left standing still in the years to come.

Speedy Nag. JOE PATCHEN II TO RACE HERE.

CHARLEY DE RYDER WILL DRIVE FAST PACER.

Has Made Close to Two Minutes Flat on the Local Track and Is Prepared to Better That Mark if Necessary to Win—May Mack Will Also Appear.

Bringing with him the positive assurance that Joe Patchen II, the great horse that paced a mile in 2:06 1/4 over the Exposition Park track last year, would start in the free-for-all pace to be staged during the November meeting of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Racing Association, Charles L. DeRyder, driver for R. J. MacKenzie, owner of Joe Patchen II, passed through Los Angeles yesterday en route to Phoenix, where he will drive Patchen II in the State Fair races.

DeRyder motored from Pleasanton to Los Angeles and left his car here, taking the train from here to Phoenix. He was accompanied by Mrs. DeRyder. While here the famous driver visited Exposition Park and in company with Ted Hayes, driver for W. A. Clark, Jr., looked over the big stable of 100 harness horses now at Exposition Park.

He was especially interested in the performance of Don Prouty, the wonderful little pacer who did a mile at the Sunday matinee in the sensational time of 2:03. As DeRyder will bring Joe Patchen II here for the fall meeting of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Racing Association, he realized that his horse would meet the wonderful little black stallion.

"Joe Patchen the second will surely start in the November races here," said Mr. DeRyder yesterday, "and while I realize that Don Prouty is a wonderful horse, I also know that Joe Patchen paced a mile over this same Exposition Park track last year in 2:06 1/4, and he is prepared this year to shade that mark a little if necessary to win."

There was a deal of friendly rivalry expressed between DeRyder and the drivers now at Exposition Park, but before leaving for his train DeRyder promised that he would bring, in addition to Joe Patchen II, three other horses for the fall meeting of the association. These horses will be May Mack, J. C. Simpson and Bradmont, all from the MacKenzie stables.

TWO BIG CONTRACTS. Each of two contracts recently assumed by the Studebaker plants in Detroit, Michigan, the delivery of more than 1,000,000 worth of automobiles during the coming season. The contracts are with the Phelps Motor Car corporation of New York and the L. Markle Company of Chicago.

The little Trojan backfield thunderbolt, who electrified the crowd Saturday by spectacular runs. He is known as "Cupid," but does not act that way.

At Exposition Park.

FOUR SPEEDY PACERS TO APPEAR IN MATCH RACE.

WITH the echo of the splendid racing matinee given Sunday at Exposition Park still in the air the members of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Racing Association have decided to make the effort to match four of the greatest pacers in the world in a special event to be staged during the big November meeting of the association.

The four horses which every effort will be made to secure are Letta J., 2:03, who has been such a sensation on the Grand Circuit this season; Jim Logan, 2:02 1/4, who boasts of two wins over Don Prouty; Joe Patchen II, 2:03 1/4, and Don Prouty, 2:03 1/4. These animals are undoubtedly the four greatest pacers now in the United States and two or three of them have met in other races during this season, but never has it been attempted to get all of them together at the same time and have them fight it out.

Letta J. has been the only horse on the Grand circuit to beat the great Frank Bogaas, Jr., three times. In turn, Letta J. has been defeated by Bogaas, but the supremacy has never been settled. Then there is Jim Logan, who beat Don Prouty at Woodlawn this season and who just now is in the form of his life. Joe Patchen II, that wonderful horse that paced a mile at Exposition Park last fall in the sensational time of 2:06 1/4, Patchen is now at Phoenix, where he will take part in the races of the State Fair early in November. Letta J. is also at Phoenix. Then there is Don Prouty, the magnificent little stallion, who won the hearts of the 8000 spectators Sunday at Exposition Park, when he stopped a mile in 2:02 flat unopposed and without much urging.

Which of these four wonderful horses would win if they were matched would set the lovers of harness racing on edge for months. The event if it is possible to arrange it would undoubtedly be the greatest racing race ever offered on the Pacific Coast.

That the plan is feasible is pointed out in that all of the great horses are within easy travel of Los Angeles. Jim Logan is in the northern portion of the State and could be brought here within twenty-four hours. Letta J. and Joe Patchen are at Phoenix, and will probably come here anyway after the Phoenix races. Don Prouty is on the ground busily challenging any Amid all the calamity write-ups and predictions that Whittier will win the Southern California football championship, Coach Pipal of Occidental is saying little and doing a great deal.

In spite of the awful wave of minor injuries that has swept nearly half of the Tiger varsity men off the field, the Tiger coach stands firmly on his conviction that the Tigers are not beaten until the game with the Quakers is over and there seems to be considerable ground for his conviction.

Of the men who faced Whittier in the second half of the practice game and scored seven points to six for the Quakers, only one is missing. That Jones is the only Tiger who played in that half who will not be able to play against the Quakers in the championship game and while the Tigers are somewhat under the weather, due to minor injuries, it looks as though the Quakers would have to do some very tall hustling to beat the Tigers at all, much less wipe them off the map as some enthusiasts have been claiming.

HOW THEY LINE UP. Pipal still has four first-class ends in Kirkpatrick, Coffeen, Mansfield and Lewis; Shipke and Squires are hard to beat as tacklers; Starnes, Dolg, Simpson, Riddick and Deems are all fighting guards and Tubby Wisman is the best center that has been seen at Occidental in some time.

In the back-field the Tigers are not quite in such good shape. Hill and Lens are at present fighting it out for the signal-shouting job with the odds in favor of Lens because of superior condition, but Hill is rapidly getting into shape and will bear watching.

Foster, Long and McClung make a very dangerous combination of backs if they are all able to play. Foster is the only one in good shape at the present time, McClung having a dislocated knee and Long a shoulder that is a couple of inches out of place. Both of these men are getting into condition rapidly, however, and will be able to start the game.

Brandsmeier, Coffeen, Hill, Wells and Lens are all good mules for the back-field, so that the Tigers will not be so badly off for first-class substitutes in case that any of the regulars is hurt.

On Wednesday afternoon the Tigers will meet Pasadena High School in the greatest game of the season. Afternoon they will probably meet Throop College in mortal combat.

Water Reinschield has been trying to drum a little football into a lot of husky mechanics out at Throop and should put up a good fight against the Tigers.

Phoenix Race. HOWDY SPECIAL WILL GO AGAIN. TRAIN TO BE USED AS HOTEL AT PHOENIX.

Will Stop Off at Mammoth Wash to See the Racers Plough Through the Sand—Howdy Band Has Been Organized Again—Few Reservations Left.

Entries for the Phoenix race will close positively at noon tomorrow. After that date no entries will be received and those who expect to start will have to post their fees with Chairman Leon Shettler by noon Wednesday.

There has been considerable talk of late entries during the past week and these anxious-to-race persons will now have a chance to make good. Twenty-five cars have been entered, which stamps this race as the greatest the country has ever known.

Starting at 8 o'clock on the morning of November 3, the cars will battle for over 500 miles to the capital of Arizona. All kinds of records will be embraced in the race and the cars and drivers will be put to the severest tests.

The official checking stations will be San Diego, Descanso, El Centro, Imperial, Black Butte, Yuma, Castle Dome and Mesquite Wells. Descanso, El Centro and Middle Wells will be flying-checking points, but at the other points it will be necessary to stop.

Chairman Shettler made the important announcement yesterday that the Howdy Special will be run as usual. The train will leave here at 8 o'clock on the morning of the start, giving a chance to see the start and to catch the train will reach Yuma at 2:30, stopping at the Mammoth Wash to see the leaders dash through the sand.

Phoenix will be reached on the morning of the Fourth with plenty of time to see the finish.

By special arrangement this year the cars will be sidetracked and used as hotel accommodations during the stay. The fare will include this, which will relieve those who go of the battle for rooms in the crowded Phoenix hotels.

No uppers will be sold, each purchaser of a lower having the entire section. Many reservations have already been made, but there are still open eleven compartments and thirty-three sections.

The train will carry a club, observation and diner and an automobile weight.

The famous Howdy band is already being organized and something entirely new is promised. Fred Palast and Eddie Lingswelder are losing sleep thinking up new ideas and John Wisse is working out every night to be in shape to beat the bass drum.

Joe Ollier has learned to play the cornet this summer just for this race and Phil Lyon has mastered the violin. He has just learned that brass bands do not have violins, but insists upon playing anyway.

MOST knit union suits are made from a knit fabric, made by the yard, cut, and sewed together. The seams have to be bulky and round to prevent raveling. Cuffs for sleeve and ankle are knit separately and sewed on. The extra material is left in the armholes, seat, knees, elbows. No wonder such a garment doesn't fit.

Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits are knit, cut, to shape; they fit because they're elastic. We control the machines that make them goods; only ones in the world.

You'll enjoy wearing a Vassar Swiss ribbed union suit; it's comfort and elasticity combined. Costs more than the other kind; worth more.

"LONESOME PINE" SAD, BUT LAUGHS ARE NOT LACKING.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

WHY is it that sadness lurks in the pine? In Longfellow's "Evangeline" it is the "whispering pine" which sighs of sadness. In Eugene Walter's latest play, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which began a week's engagement at the Mason last night, the solitary stalks as its banner tear flowers.

That the play ends happily, after all, somehow doesn't take away the impression of sorrow, and the indelible mark the play leaves is a grief scar.

That, in truth, is where the power of Charlotte Walker lies, for her incarnation as poor white trash in the mountains, and her groping for "larkin" because she loves the "tunes police" her simple, pathetic reciting of Jack and Jill at the base of the pine, and her naked declaration to wear shoes and stockings.

The feud, with its gunshots in the dark, and the encounter between the turner and Dave Tolliver, June's cousin, who she loves, is heartily only the presence of death can thrill.

And the storming of old Judd Tolliver, June's father, always ready and able to shoot him because he is a justice of the peace.

That, in fact, is the secret of the success of Eugene Walter. His people have character. In the cast of nine, not one but what is a vital, telling factor.

In passing, it would be almost criminal not to remark on the splendid acting. One can smell the pines, and all the scenes are built with a care that is as gratifying as they are impressive.

Orpheum.

"The New Song Birds," a travesty on the fairy tale of the "Song Birds," is supposed to exist, between impresarios of importance in the operatic world, is presumably the leading feature at the Orpheum this week. Its right to such leadership, in spite of its huge cast and the beauty of the production, is open to question.

This ambitious farcical affair is the joint work of Victor Herbert and George V. Hobart, who have heretofore done many good things for vaudeville—and some not so good. The musical part of it is very attractive—little hints of the popular grand opera cleverly interwoven with bits of Herbert's own composition. And the big vocal number at its finale, "The Battle of B Flat," with every member of the company in it, is assuredly an effective conglomeration of tuneful sounds skillfully handled by both composer and singers. But Herbert's humor throughout the entire travesty is forced and rather stupid, with the "made to order" mark conspicuously in evidence. It brings the laugh but seldom.

William Burrows' characterization of Oscar Hammerstone is a delightful take-off on the great New York man. Ben Monche as Gargamasi (this is harder to open than Mississippi) is a clear-cut silhouette of the typical Italian impresario. Some really fine voices are among the "song birds," members of the rival troupes—Madame Yelba, Alessandro, Edouard Delestrade, Madame Tettie, Robinson Caruso, Peter Pantalon—and the choruses are decidedly good. All the same, "The New Song Birds" is rather pathetic as a whole.

Jeanette Franziska, who comes from Holland, with John M. Schouten, the composer of her songs, at the piano, sings a few numbers in a limpid, flowing, highly trained soprano voice, singing in French, German and English. The English is almost flawless. Schouten's accompaniment is most sympathetically rendered.

The other new musicians on the program are Frosini, who plays the accordion with remarkable technical skill, but no particular feeling. He is brilliant, but he obtains force by metrically violent contrast.

In "Odd Nonsense," Mullen & Co. show themselves to be fun-makers of decided originality as to method. They sing and dance, too, calling forth the merry hush at every turn in their loud and happy wit.

The music halls of Europe send us Jack McEllen and May Carson, experts on roller skates. Their tangy dance on rollers is a novelty—and undoubtedly a difficult one to deliver.

The holders of the week are that delightful musical comedy, "The Little Parisienne," with Valerie Serice; Carl Roedel, clever magician; Hoy & Co., bright purveyors of the Jewish joke.

Empress.

In the light of present events, Ned Joyce Heaney has projected himself into those of 100 years from today, producing a delightful farce-comedy which he calls "When Women Rule," and which is cleverly given at the Empress this week by four competent actors.

"When Women Rule" is in truth one of the brightest little farces seen here for many a day. The two women in it are successful politicians, one running for Mayor, the other a "boss."

The men—save the mark—are a discredited lover of the prospective Mayor and a new lover whom she wishes to marry. The new lover is also son to the "boss."

But the old lover appears in his pathetic disguise, claiming that Florence de Forrest owes him marriage because she is the mother of his child. Tableau! Hard words between the boss and Florence, Harold Hargrave, the old love, faints. Cyril Mahoney, the new one, is on the point of collapse.

Florence and Patricia wear high hats, wide trousers, and smoke black cigars, and affect a manly swagger. Harold and Cyril wear veils and picture hats, and are miming in manner.

William Bauman's Harold is screamingly funny, because so tragically serious. The femininity of Cyril is also cleverly shown by Clara Cody, while Louise Ripley and Helen Gaudin are apportioning masculine as Florence and Patricia.

Let us devoutly hope that Ned Joyce Heaney left a prophetic Charles Chaplin in back with his perennially amusing characterization of a "house." This time he appears in a "house" where everybody has a good time and does exactly what he likes. Chaplin does his usual stunts at tumbling and knocking everybody down, he himself remaining preternaturally solemn all the time. There are no less than fifteen people in the cast, bright men and women who know how to keep the ball of fun a rolling.

In their little skit composed of music and fun, "Keeping an Appointment," Aubrey Pringle and Violet Allen, show what can be done in an emergency. Being unable to get their clothes, they improvise complete outfits from window curtains, tablecloths, mats and lamp shades, and presto! the troupe is in complete evening raiment that is chic and correct.

Medlin, Feiler and Townes sing and dance in lively and entertaining fashion, as do Dora Early and Carl Eyer. The two Lee Brothers are wonderfully agile on ice skates. And the moving pictures tell a humorous tale.

Tally's Broadway.

Little Lanette (Lady do Bath), favorite emotional actress, is appearing in "His Neighbor's Wife," a three-act photodrama, at Tally's Broadway Theater this week. The play is possessed of a strong plot and the cast supporting the star is uniformly good.

Capt. Leslie T. Peacocke, a former Angeleno, has one of the leading roles in addition to this feature, a French drama in three parts is shown. "The Thrust of Hate" depicts one of the most thrilling sword fights ever thrown upon a screen. This picture is beautifully colored.

Fay King (Mrs. Battling Nelson's) pen and ink impressions of Kitty Gordon and her $35,000 back, as shown in Victor Herbert's operatic success, "The Enchantress." The beautiful Kitty and her wonderful back will be conspicuous on the Majestic stage next week.

MERRY AND GAY COMIC OPERA. BACK WORTH BIG FORTUNE.

TIVOLI COMPANY PRESENTS "CHIMES OF NORMANDY." AT LEAST KITTY GORDON'S MAN-AGERS THINK SO.

Finquette's Celebrated Composition, Replete With Joyful Melodies, Well Received—Cathart's Impersonation of Gaspard the Striking Feature.

BY HECTOR ALIOT.

At the Auditorium last night, the Tivoli Opera Company gave the popular "Chimes of Normandy."

For more than thirty years this tuneful comic opera has entertained vast audiences throughout the world because it represents a protest, now evanescent and somewhat antiquated, against classical music.

The charm of the opera, now that its political and economic satire has disappeared, remains a merry, melodious arrangement of arias, barcaroles and duets of great brilliancy.

As presented last night, the chorus, excellent throughout, came in for a great share of applause as the principals. Rena Vivienne impersonated the lost marchioness, attractively, if at times lacking in grace of action demanded by the part; Berpolette, the good-for-nothing village maid, was well done by Myrtle Dingwall; Henry Salter was Henri, the Marquis of Villorot; John H. Phillips, Grencheux the fisherman. Charles E. Gallagher, comedian, gave a good and amusing "Ballad de Corneville."

The feature of the entertaining and attractive presentation of the "Chimes of Normandy" was the capital impersonation of Gaspard, the miser, "as old as Methuselah and as bad as a scarecrow."

Few people, among those who enthusiastically greeted Walter O. Catlett, in that role, realized that he had never learned the part, arrived at 10:15 o'clock yesterday morning, rehearsed in the afternoon, and played for the first time, Gaspard, in the evening.

Two seasons ago, when Kitty Gordon was summing in Paris, a number of famous artists held a symposium in that city to decide who was the most beautiful woman on the American stage. Rodin, the famous sculptor, declared that Miss Kitty Gordon was, in his opinion, the most beautiful and stunning woman, as the fine lines of her figure, and the glory of her face surpassed all other stage favorites.

When Miss Gordon was in Paris this summer she made a special visit to Rodin's studio to look over some of the artist's latest work. And it was on this visit that the prima donna decided to adopt a suggestion of the famous sculptor that will result in the oldest insurance policy ever issued.

It was Sarah Bernhardt who insured her eyes. Repulse who insured her throat, and Genevieve who put a value of $50,000 on her limbs. But it is to insure a back in Miss Kitty Gordon. Much has been heard about Kitty Gordon's back. Much has been written about Kitty Gordon's back. That post has exhausted his talent in disclosing the beauty of Kitty Gordon's back. The modiste, in most cases, has failed to cover Kitty Gordon's back, and that's why much has been written about the back and why much has been heard about the back, and why the poet raved in such antonizing terms.

The difficulty of insuring a back can be imagined. Miss Gordon is now awaiting a new gown, which will be worn for the first time when the fair Kitty appears at the Majestic Theater Sunday night, October 26, in her play, "The Enchantress." She finally speculates how much of the back she wants insured. The modiste's idea will have to settle that matter. Arrangements will be made to have Miss Gordon's back insured primarily against pin scratches.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Annexation Commission is holding daily meetings to whip into shape the propositions to be submitted to the voters in the next election for annexation or consolidation with Los Angeles, and will meet a delegation of San Fernando people this afternoon.

The Retail Butchers' Association yesterday appealed to the City Council to appoint four more permanent slaughter inspectors, as they declare that present inspection is inadequate.

Councilman Reed did not return to the city yesterday to vote on the combination proposition, and it was determined to put through the unjust combination proposition, and that Reed must come if they hope to bring him in on a stretcher.

A delegation of colored women yesterday appealed to the Police Commission to give aid in breaking down the "color line" at picture shows and restaurants. They were advised that their recourse was charging civil suits.

An aggrieved wife is suing for divorce because, as she alleges, her husband brought another woman into the home as his sister and later eloped with and married her without getting a divorce.

FUNDAMENTALS IN ANNEXATION PROGRAMME UNSETTLED.

Commission Plans Daily Sessions Pending Definite Decision of Terms Upon Which Prospective Water Users May Avail Themselves of City's Offer—Many Applicants.

Daily meetings of the Annexation Commission until a basis of agreement is reached on the proposition to be submitted to the outside territories considered favorable for annexation or consolidation is the intention of this board. Yesterday's session was given over to the discussion of two of the fundamental propositions—whether the city shall construct water mains to the districts or these shall be done under district assessments, and whether communities that could use the present outfall sewer should be required to pay their just proportion of the outstanding sewer bonds. No decision was reached.

D. W. Garwood, representing the Belvidere district, directly to the east of the city, appeared to ask for information on general principles on annexation, and arranged for a large delegation from that territory to appear before the commission some time next week. Miss Mary Foy, representing Annandale and San Raphael Heights districts, also was present to gain information for that section and will make a report to the local improvement associations.

In order that there be no question of the attitude of the city, the commission yesterday decided to change the wording of one of the propositions, known as No. 6, so that it will state explicitly that "the municipal water system shall extend to annexed territory."

George H. Dunlop, was appointed a committee of one to secure information as to what outstanding bonds apply to the outfall sewer. As this sewer will soon have reached its maximum carrying capacity, some members of the commission believe it unwise to undertake to assess any portion of the proposed districts for annexation with payment for any part of this bonded indebtedness. Naturally all of such territory will have to help pay for the construction of a new outfall should it become a part of the city.

WANT FOUR MORE.

ASK FOR MEAT INSPECTORS.
The Retail Butchers' Association of Los Angeles, composed of 210 retail meat markets, yesterday filed with the City Clerk an appeal to the Council for the appointment of four more permanent slaughter inspectors for the meat inspection bureau of the health department.

In this petition the butchers say that the present inspection "is entirely inadequate to properly safeguard the health and interests of the people," and that this is due to the tremendous growth of the city.

REED STILL ABSENT.

HAYNES TO GO FOR HIM.
"We'll get Councilman Reed here if we have to bring him in on a stretcher, and I'll go down to Coachella Valley and get him myself," declared Dr. John R. Haynes in the Council chamber yesterday, when Reed did not appear in answer to a telegram urging that his presence was needed to make six votes for the proposed combining of two power bond propositions in one item to put before the people. Reed had not replied to the telegram.

His absence left the situation unchanged, so that the unjust proposal could not be put through the Council. Councilman Beckwith today will present his report as chairman of the Public Service Committee and will declare in favor of the combined proposition. Councilman Conwell also urged that the issue be submitted separately, so that the voters their real sentiments on each.

Miss Reed is brought back, it was impossible to work through the combination programme as Councilman Langdon will stand with Conwell, and only five votes could be mustered for the Reed programme.

COLOR LINE.

HOUSES NEGROES' IRE.
A delegation of colored women, representing the Colored Women's Federated Clubs, and composed of Mrs. T. Reed, president of the federation; Mrs. Morgan Robinson, vice-president; and Mrs. Betty Thompson, secretary, accompanied by Titus Alexander, representing the colored men's civic organizations, appeared before the Police Commission yesterday to make protest against alleged raising of the color line in Los Angeles so that the negroes have to pay exorbitant charges for ordinary services.

The particular allegations of the women were that negroes are charged from 25 cents to $5.00 for admission to some of the picture shows where the ordinary admission fee is 5 cents or 10 cents, and that it is almost impossible for negroes to get service at a reasonable rate in the restaurants of the city, some of these having cards displayed announcing that they do not cater to colored trade.

MOSTLY TRANSFERS.

ACTION ON LIQUOR PERMIT.
The Police Commission yesterday granted to the Jefferson Club, No. 244 1/2 South Spring street, a social club liquor permit.

The No. 1 restaurant liquor permit held by the Los Angeles Cafe Company for No. 121 West Fourth street, was transferred to William Schneider, Chaucery E. McDuffee was allowed to change from a No. 2 permit of the same character to a No. 1 permit, for No. 801 East Fifth street.

The commission granted a transfer of the saloon permit held by Ernest Vierke for No. 537 South Main street, to Vierke & Tepper.

The transfer of the saloon permit for No. 415 North Main street, from Amillo & Mazzetti to Joseph Mazzetti was granted.

A House-Warming.

The Hollywood Board of Trade proposed to have "house-warmings" at the new municipal building at Hollywood on October 24, and yesterday made application to the Police Commission for a permit for this affair, which was granted. City officials will be invited to participate.

Protest on Tunnel.

The time for filing protests on the acceptance of the Hill-street tunnel will expire this week. Yesterday a large delegation of protesters gathered in the Council chamber and asked to be heard, but no formal notice of a hearing has not yet been published. The Council postponed all hearings until that time is set.

The protest will be based upon the substitution of materials, which caused the discharge of Tunnel Engineer Tuttle, and his appeal to the Civil Service Commission, followed by his reinstatement in the City Engineer's office.

Numerous Special Police.

The Police Commission yesterday gave its approval to the action of Chief of Police Sebastian in appointing numerous special police. The list includes Milburn G. Willis, Pat Mathews and James F. Clark, for the Los Angeles Railway Corporation; Schuyler F. West, for the Alexandria Hotel; Chester J. Wickham, for the Mercantile place and the California Savings Bank; E. J. Delorey, an employee at Exposition Park; and others.

For the Santa Fe Railroad; Edmund L. Richardson, for the Merchants' Fire Dispatch Company; Alfred L. Barron, for the Los Angeles Hotel; Robert C. Smith, for the California Auto Club; C. J. Watkins, for the Moreland Truck Company. Five special police permits were cancelled.

Gets Drunk; Is Fined.

Action of Chief of Police Sebastian in removing from the police force Police Officer Earl C. Muts for having been drunk while on duty, was approved by the Police Commission yesterday.

Officers of others showed the Muts was helplessly drunk and was found lying across the railroad tracks.

Recommend Safety Station.

Lieut. Butler of the traffic squad yesterday recommended to the Police Commission that it request the Council to order that a safety station for street car patrons be located at Hill and Temple streets, and recommended that this be 500 feet, properly lighted, and that signs be placed, and that the full force of the light. The increase of passenger traffic at that point, and the fact that pedestrians in the city have got into the street, makes the safety station necessary, says Butler. The recommendation was approved by the commission.

SUPPLANTED IN LOVE IS PLAIN.
ALLEGED RIVAL VISITED AS HUSBAND'S SISTER.

Now Wife Is Seeking Divorce on Grounds Spouse Elope With Other and Married Without Divorce—Pasadena. Chairman Excused for Time—Norton Must Pay.

Serious allegations are contained in the complaint of Mrs. Clara Brandt in the complaint of Mrs. Clara Brandt, filed yesterday against her husband, Ferdinand M. Brandt, among others that he brought into his home a woman called Amelia Matilda C. Peters, asserting she was his sister, and that he later abandoned Mrs. Brandt for Mrs. Peters without first securing a divorce.

Mrs. Brandt alleges her husband is a large stockholder in an advertising paper and has recently acquired property worth $8000. She asks the court to issue an order restraining him from disposing of the real estate on the ground that it is community property and asks for $70 a month alimony for the support of herself and their daughter, Eleanor Brandt, aged 17 years.

The Brandts, according to the complaint, were married in New York July 27, 1906, and lived together, she alleges, until Brandt abandoned her March 20, 1911. Prior to the alleged desertion, she says, he brought Miss Peters to reside with them. Miss Peters, she avers, was ascertained later, was no relative to Brandt.

They came to California and it is alleged Brandt and his second wife now reside at Pasadena.

FEW DAYS GRACE.

WIFE NEEDS THE MONEY.
Largely because E. T. O'H. society and club man of Pasadena, and prominent in the affairs of the Tournament of Roses, was a member of the State Board of Pharmacy and in that connection was attending the convention in San Francisco, Judge Monroe withdrew a bench warrant he had issued yesterday for him when he failed to appear on an order to show cause.

Mrs. O'H. is suing him for separate maintenance. "Off" was ordered into court to show cause why she should not be adjudged in contempt by failing to pay $145. This amount, it was stated, was owing by Mrs. O'H. for bills she had contracted at a department store. Off sent an affidavit stating that he was attending the pharmacy convention. His attorney was instructed by the court that unless he appeared on the 21st inst., he would be brought in on a bench warrant.

had resigned as a director of the Tournament of Roses. Mrs. Off said that her creditors are pressing her.

ORDERED TO PAY.

THREE HUNDRED A MONTH.
Dr. George L. Cole was ordered by Judge Monroe yesterday to pay his wife $200 monthly alimony pending the trial of the latter's divorce suit. The case came before the court yesterday on an order to show cause, Attorney R. J. Culver appearing for Mrs. Cole.

The wife of a prominent banker is mentioned as co-respondent in the suit, and it was understood that there would be a settlement of the suit. Dr. Cole, however, filed an answer denying all of the allegations of his wife and it is expected that when the action is tried he will fight the charges coupling his name with the banker's wife, now estranged from her husband.

Mrs. Cole alleges that her husband has tried to convert some of the securities into cash. She testified yesterday that she had no means of support. She is now residing at No. 1415 South Hope street. Dr. Cole testified as to the extent of his earnings, which is about $8000 a year. The application of Culver for attorney's fees was not allowed, but will be taken care of at the time of the trial.

SUBWAY MATTERS.

SOMETHING LEGALLY NEW.
Final argument in the subway proposition which cropped up in the Hill-street tunnel case, was heard by Judge Works yesterday, and the matter taken under submission by the court. In deciding the questions which have arisen, Judge Works has no precedent to work on, and it is understood he will fully cover the points in a written opinion.

The Pacific Electric held that the land which the city owns and which is to be used for the subway, was deeded with the provision that a subway would be built. While the city wants the subway built, it was held by City Attorney Stephens that the railroad had not appropriated it for public use. The question is whether the city has the power to reserve and the railroad the right to operate a subway under the park.

City Attorney Stephens said the city owns the land, but when the Council passed the ordinance directing that this strip be taken, it failed to make a reservation of the right of the corporation. Now as the Council did nothing in the matter, the question is, can it do so now?

Either way the court decides the matter an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court. The city will appeal if the court holds the land was appropriated for public use in order to have the question passed on by the higher court. The Pacific Electric will appeal if the city wins, with the view of reversing the lower court. The case is regarded by the attorneys as important.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

EACH SIDE CLAIMS VICTORY.
Further injunction, restraining J. F. Clark, president of the California Products Company, from using funds of that corporation was yesterday refused by the minority stockholders, represented by M. A. Dickman, through his attorney, Fred Arnoldy. Judge Morrison, in Department Six of the Superior Court, ruled that further injunction was unnecessary, as the action being fully covered by his ruling on another similar proceeding last Tuesday.

Under this action he declared that should Clark or his associates use further money of the company without the full authorization of the stockholders, he would hold them in contempt of court. Both sides in the legal battle have got into the street, while the plaintiffs also considered it such.

There are several actions pending against President Clark, W. F. Rau and J. D. Heard, the next on the court calendar seeking to enjoin these officials from collecting $25,000 from the stockholders' liability by assessment against the stock. November 12 is the date for the date for hearing of this case.

MIFED IN A MINUTE.

NO GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE.
The divorce suit of Mrs. Catherine L. Meloy came to an abrupt end in Judge Taft's court yesterday at the conclusion of a remarkable statement she making yesterday to a fashionable wedding at St. Paul's church at high noon in 1910, Mrs. Meloy said.

"We expected to leave on the honeymoon trip on the 8 o'clock train after the wedding. As I was preparing to change my wedding gown to a traveling dress, he was rather cruel in his treatment of me, and I thought the best thing and the only thing to do was to go home, which I did on the 8 o'clock train."

Mrs. Meloy, who has not lived with her husband since that day, brought suit on the ground of non-support, but as there was no foundation for this charge, Judge Taft dismissed it.

HE PAYS DEARLY.

NORTON STUCK FOR COSTS.
Supervisor Norton gave his check for $104.50 yesterday to satisfy the judgment for costs in his $25,000 divorce suit against E. T. O'H.

Demurrers to the original and amended complaint were sustained with leave to amend. Norton failed to file a second amended complaint in time and Judge Wood gave judgment for Johnson.

The action was brought by Norton for an alleged statement made by Johnson at a meeting of the trustees of Christ Church. In so many words Norton alleged that Johnson had falsely accused him of using his title auto during the Supervisory race, gasoline which the church paid for.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.
WANT BETTER SERVICE. Alleging that the Glendale Consolidated Water Company does not furnish an adequate supply of water, Benjamin Meekins and others for themselves and the North Highland Park Improvement Association, the Occidental Improvement and Protective Society, the Red Freeland Improvement Association and the Hermon Civic Society, filed suit yesterday against the Glendale Water Company, asking that the company be restrained from collecting water rates and for a writ of mandamus to improve the existing plant. Damages to lots are placed at $75,000.

LEAVES GOOD WILL. When W. H. Anderson drew his will he added a sentence to the effect that it might not be legal, but it was according to wishes. The will, which gives his estate to his wife, Miss Belle Anderson, was probated yesterday. It was the remark from Judge Rives that it was as good a will as he had ever seen, and that no lawyer could upset it. The estate was only $1257, consisting of
